Charlie Surfer

Pia Strømme, Norway 2020 – 15'

Charlie is 10 years old and diagnosed with Asperger. He is proud of his diagnosis, but sometimes wishes he was more like the other boys in his class. He feels that sometimes diversity leaves him on the sidelines. Because of Asperger, Charlie struggles with team sports. But he has found two things he loves to do, surfing and dancing. We watch Charlie's ups and downs during surfing masterclass.

Asho

Jafar Najafi, Iran 2019 – 30'

Asho is a shepherd boy interested in cinema and acting. While following the flock, he cultivates his passion for Hollywood films. His life is intertwined with his dreams. Asho and the girl to whom he is bound by a promise of marriage from his parents since their childhood (according to well-established traditions of their village), try to ignore each other's feelings by following typical childhood social rituals...

MALPELO: mountain of sharks

Kevin Mannens, USA 2022 – 15'

Days' journey away from the nearest land lies a mythical underwater volcano. Beneath the waves, an incredible exuberance of life. Huge shoals of fish darken the water and hundreds of sharks patrol the underwater mountain. But like all wild places, it too is seriously threatened. Indiscriminate fishing and illegal exploitation of sharks could soon destroy this natural wonder and UNESCO world heritage site.

Φύλλα καπνού | Her tobacco

Stathis Galazoulas, Greece 2023 – 39'

Second-generation immigrant women tobacco factory workers recall their working years in the tobacco factories of Agrinio. Interspersed with interviews and archive footage, former worker Parthena Despoinidou's visit to the iconic 'Papastratos' factory attempts to reconstruct what was one of the most significant tobacco processing centres of the 20th century.
